Blue Sky International Limited Warranty

Thank you for choosing Blue Sky! Blue Sky products are manufactured to exacting standards and are fully tested before being shipped. Blue Sky International products are warranted to be free from original manufacturing defects for a period of 2 years from date of purchase. Blue Sky International, or its designated service centers, will repair or replace, at the discretion of Blue Sky International, any defective parts or components, at no charge, when the defect is a result of a manufacturing or component defect. The warranty will not apply to products which have been abused, modified, disassembled, or repaired by anyone other than Blue Sky International or one of its designated service centers. Products must be returned to Blue Sky International or one of its designated service centers in the original carton and packing. All transportation costs must be prepaid.

This warranty is limited, and no other warranties or obligations are expressed or implied.
